

WHAT LIES AHEAD?

SPRING QUARTER SEMINAR

DISCOVER ENGINEERING:

HOW TO AIM HIGH, EMBRACE
UNCERTAINTY, AND ACHIEVE IMPACT

ENGR193

This weekly seminar will provide practical leadership training to declared undergraduates and MS students of all engineering majors. Topics will include how to network, negotiate, advocate for yourself, and assert influence in your field.

Career exploration and mentorship opportunities will be delivered through an inspiring line up of guest speakers and interactive activities, demonstrations and tours. This course will provide you with the foundation to make meaningful contributions to your chosen field once you are ready for the world beyond Stanford.

Stanford | ENGINEERING

Spring Quarter
Wednesdays
4:30pm-5:50pm
Lathrop 282
1 unit
CR/NC

This seminar will include:

Engaging Lectures

Mentorship

Career Exploration

Alumni Guest Speakers

Real life stories of success

Lecturer Nita Singh Kaushal (EE '03) is the Founder of Miss CEO, a company that empowers young career professionals in STEM fields with the ultimate leadership toolkit, mentorship, and career exploration opportunities so they can excel in all phases of life.